

If a medical emergency strikes at your restaurant during the World Cup - are you prepared?

You, your staff and all patrons in your restaurant can rely on South Africa's premier provider of Emergency Medical Services, Netcare 911, in case of a medical emergency through the following:

- Emergency Medical Services by Netcare 911
(stabilise and transport patient/s to the closest, most appropriate medical facility) through Netcare 911's 24-hour Control Centre in case of any medical emergency at your restaurant.
- First Aid Level 1 training for two staff members of your Restaurant by Netcare 911's School of Emergency and Critical Care (SECC).
- A Netcare 911 branded First Aid kit containing all items as required in terms of Regulation 7 of the Occupational Health and Safety Act.
- A Netcare 911 and RASA co-branded sticker for your restaurant door, giving your patrons peace of mind in case of a medical emergency.

At only R200 per RASA member per month, you can ensure peace of mind for national and international visitors when they enjoy true South African hospitality in our respective restaurants during this auspicious year. This service will be valid for 12 months.
